| 06/2022 - 12/2022 | Preparing students to experience academic success in FPH 7012 - Social Justice in Public Health and as they move forward earning the WSU MPH degree, Graduate (Masters, Ph.D., Pharm.D., etc.), Wayne State University, Detroit, MI, United States of America Based on a series of meetings with Dr. Tiura, who also teaches FPH 7012, I added assignments and classroom activities to FPH 7012. These assignments encourage students to think critically about the attitudes, behaviors, and competencies that have helped them experience academic success. Thinking about, writing about, and discussing these experiences encourages peer learning. |

- 03/2022 - 08/2022 Curriculum development to align FPH 7440 - Applied Practice Experience and Master's Project course, Graduate (Masters, Ph.D., Pharm.D., etc.), Wayne State University, Detroit, MI, United States of America
During a series of meetings, with work performed between meetings, I contributed to revising the curriculum of the Master's Project course in Wayne State's Master of Public Health program. Starting in Fall 2022, the Master's Project course seeks to leverage how students advanced their public health competencies in FPH 7440. At various points, I met with Drs. Mahas, Ellis, and MacDonald. Separately, I have conducted a series of meetings with Mrs. Amanda Compton, who is the WSU MPH Practicum & Community Engagement Coordinator. To support the increased integration of FPH 7440 and the Master's Project course, Mrs. Compton is primarily responsible for providing electronic portfolios of FPH 7440 students' work to the Master's Project course instructors promptly.
- 08/2018 - 01/2019 PH 4100 - Public Health Principles & Practice, Other, Wayne State University College of Liberal Arts & Sciences, Bachelor of Science in Public Health
Developed and submitted proposal to change course format from traditional to hybrid, with approximately half as many classroom sessions as before, but with substantial opportunities for student engagement and learning outside of the classroom via the Canvas learning management system.
- 01/2018 - 04/2018 PH 4100 - Public Health Principles & Practice, Other, Wayne State University College of Liberal Arts & Sciences, Bachelor of Science in Public Health
PH 4100 is one of two two-credit practice-focused courses Wayne State Bachelor of Science in Public Health students must complete. The original course format was traditional, with 100% of instruction occurring in a classroom. The curriculum develop included serving as a participant-observer in the course during the Winter 2018 semester, presenting several lessons during that semester, debriefing the Winter 2018 semester course with the instructor, and designing new lessons, identifying new required readings, and creating new assignments for the Spring/Summer 2018 semester.

Department / Division

- 03/2023 - 03/2023 Presenter / Speaker, WSU MPH External Advisory Committee, Department of Family Medicine and Public Health Sciences
Based on the most recent Course Outcomes Report, I presented highlights about FPH 7440 - Applied Practice Experience for Academic Year 2021-2022. The highlights included placing 100% of 31 enrolled students, satisfactory course completion of 97% of students, and 94% of students expressing that they would recommend their site to future FPH 7440 students. (One No response to the last items seems to be an entry error. All other content in the student evaluation is laudatory.) I also included information about the lengthy and diverse roster of community partners who host our practicum students. During Academic Year 2021-2022, about 2/3 of students were placed with longtime partners of WSU's MPH program. Based partly on the expressed interests of students, the practicum team recruited 6 new partners who hosted our students.
- 11/2022 - 11/2022 Presenter / Speaker, WSU MPH Internal Advisory Committee, Department of Family Medicine and Public Health Sciences
Based on information that would later be included in the Course Outcomes Report, I presented highlights about FPH 7440 - Applied Practice Experience for Academic Year 2021-2022. For example, I discussed placing 100% of 31 enrolled students, the diversity of sites where they were placed, and the high percentage of students who had completed the course satisfactorily. During Academic Year 2021-2022, about 2/3 of students were placed with longtime partners of WSU's MPH program. Based partly on the expressed interests of students, the practicum team recruited 6 new partners who hosted our students.
- 11/2021 - Present Chair, Organizing Committee, Epsilon Kappa chapter of Delta Omega Public Health Honorary Society, Department of Family Medicine and Public Health Sciences
In 2022, I led this committee of 3 Master of Public Health students and 3 faculty members in developing induction criteria, application/nomination process, and inaugural induction ceremony. We inducted the first chapter members in May 2022. In 2023, I am leading a committee of 2 faculty members, 1 current student, and 1 alumnus. We will select current students and alumni to be inducted in May 2023.
- 04/2020 - Present Member, Master of Public Health Curriculum Committee, Department of Family Medicine and Public Health Sciences
- 12/2019 - 12/2019 Organizer / Coordinator, Public Health External Advisory Committee, Department of Family Medicine and Public Health Sciences
Helped develop meeting agenda. Prepared and facilitated activity about the multiple facets of professional development in public health.
- 01/2019 - 04/2019 Organizer / Coordinator, 2019 Master of Public Health Student Essay Contest, Department of Family Medicine and Public Health Sciences
